PROGRAM — 7

```
/****************************************************************/
/* Name of the Program : content check                          / / Aim                 : receives two file contents as arguments and*/ /*                       check these contents are same or not    / / Author              : Rafsal Rahim                            */
/* Date Written        : 23.01.2018                              */
/****************************************************************/

/****************************************************************/
/* PROGRAM:                                                      */

file1=$1
file2=$2
if diff -q $file1 $file2
then echo Files are same rm $file2
    echo $file2 removed else
    echo Files are different fi
/****************************************************************/

/****************************************************************/
/* RESULT :                                                      */
/*                                                              */
/* The script is executed and the output is verified            */
/*                                                              */
/****************************************************************/
```

```
/**************************************************************/
OUTPUT:

$ ./pgm7.sh del1.sh del2.sh
Files del1.sh and del2.sh differ
Files are different

$ ./pgm7.sh del3.sh del4.sh
Files are same
del2.sh removed
/**************************************************************/
```